In order to support and empower the next generation, we need to involve them in all matters that will impact their future.

WHY OUR IMPACT IS NEEDED

“Children have a right to be heard and to have a say in decisions that affect their lives.”

Artic 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC)

Children and young people need to:

- Be informed.

  See what is happening in the world around them from a range of different perspectives.

- Be curious.

  Explore issues through activities that promote questioning, enquiry & discussion.

- Be heard.

  Use their voices to articulate their views and be proactive in initiating positive change.

Children & Young People
Teachers and Senior Leaders want:

- Children to explore educational, social and political issues and to be empowered with the skills and values they need for a healthy life.
- A time-saving, cost-effective and consistent way to deliver PSHE, Citizenship, Oracy, Tutor Time and Assemblies.
- To meet and evidence curriculum requirements such as SMSC, Prevent, British Values and the UN Sustainable Development Goals.
WHAT WE DO TO MAKE AN IMPACT

1. Young people take part in weekly informed discussion and voting to get them in the habit of democratic participation.

2. Our resources include links to a range of ways that young people can have an impact on the world.

3. Each week, they vote and comment.

4. We make the data and comments public, hugely raising the profile of youth voice.

5. We get influential people and organisations to respond to voters so they can see that they have been heard.

6. We show voters the impact they have had through follow-up responses to the results.
WHAT WE DO TO MAKE AN IMPACT

This year, children and young people from 800+ schools have voted 792,695 times on 40 questions.

We can have as many as 25,000 children and young people voting each week.

From Brexit to the benefits of nature, from consent to the future of cash, we cover a huge range of topics. Here are just some of the questions voted on during 2020/21:

"Should professional sport be free from Coronavirus rules?"

"Is involvement with a criminal gang always a choice?"

"Should we share our medical data?"

"Does uniform limit self-expression?"

"Is the refugee crisis really over?"

"Will learning ever be the same again?"

"Would you pay more for fairly traded products?"
WHAT WE DO TO MAKE AN IMPACT

Each week, we send the results of the vote with comments from voters to influential people and organisations. Here is some of the feedback we have received in the last 12 months:

Feedback: “Is streaming good for the music industry?”

“Streaming is now the dominant way to consume music, particularly for under 25s. ERA believes that the impact of streaming on the music industry has been overwhelmingly positive, returning a declining music business to growth and creating an entirely new sustainable music ecosystem. From the low point of 2014 the value of the UK recorded music market has grown every year thanks to streaming.”

Kim Bailey, Chief Executive of the Entertainment Retailers Association

Find out more about how how artists and songwriters are paid from Kim in the Notes section:

“We thank everyone for their valued observations ... British artists, including a new wave of rap, hip hop and dance talent, are doing especially well by harnessing the global reach of streaming – over 950 are now being streamed an incredible 50 million times or more globally a year. This is giving them successful careers and rising earnings!”

Germaine Connon, Director of Communications at BMI & representative of BMI Independent & unsigned artists

Feedback: “Is uniform a barrier to self-expression?”

“At Mosaic Trust we believe in equality, diversity and inclusion. Uniforms can be helpful of leveling a playing field for all students as with uniforms you don’t get a clear depiction of those who can afford big brands versus those who have to wear lesser end labels. Allowing young persons to see beyond what one is wearing in important to help them see a person before they see the brand. Some uniform policies go too far however not allowing tons and gender non-binary individuals a freedom of choice which can result in anxiety and increased dysphoria. Other policies try to address this by giving young persons of colour more oppressive in their very nature. Well designed, flexible uniforms with welfare of young persons at heart will make a positive difference in any school.”

Lukasz Kowalczyk, Executive Director of Mosaic LGBTQ+ Young Person’s Fund

Feedback: “Are the days of cash numbered?”

“The pandemic has driven the use of digital transactions because of their convenience and because of the public reluctance to handle cash. ... Some countries in the developing world may not be able to keep up with the shift to digital because they lack the technological infrastructure of developed countries, but the shift from cash is no longer about whether it will happen but how quickly.”

(Full quote in Notes)

Roger Blitz, World News Editor The Financial Times

Feedback: “Do we take the benefits of nature for granted?”

“Nature is our great untapped resource for our mental health and wellbeing, and sometimes we take for granted the nature we have around us. I am delighted to see the VoteTopicSchools results for Mental Health Awareness Week 2021 and that children and young people of all ages are recognising the importance of nature for their mental health. It is important to equip the next generation to connect and appreciate nature. By opening ourselves up to a meaningful relationship with nature, children and young people can reduce feelings of stress, anxiety and social isolation and are more likely to be advocates in protecting the natural world.”

Mark Rowland, Chief Executive of The Mental Health Foundation

Focus Groups 2020-21

We work with selected partners to take discussion further and gather more detailed feedback from young people on key issues. This year we had three focus groups:

- Careers in cyber security with IBM and the National Cyber Security Centre
- Diversity in examinations with The Black Curriculum
- Future of Education with Protection Approaches for UNESCO

We had more than 1,200 individual responses from 100+ schools that have been used to inform and shape campaigns and strategy.

"The Black Curriculum would like to extend their thanks to the Youth Advisory Board for getting involved in such impactful work! Your contributions to the conversation around diversity and Black history in exams were incredibly insightful and is something we at The Black Curriculum strive to address. Black history should not be limited to October’s Black History Month, but should be represented in the curriculum all year round, as well as in exams. Thank you all for offering your time and insight on this important issue!"

WHAT WE DO TO MAKE AN IMPACT

VotesforSchools goes global

Commissions 2020-21

We created custom careers-based resources for use in Buckinghamshire, Luton, Berkshire, and Oxfordshire Secondary schools, as work experience was not possible due to the pandemic.

The NHS (HEE) had bespoke resources on careers in Podiatry, Therapeutic Radiography and Pharmacy for their schools website.

350 WOW Show schools received these resources to inspire young people’s futures.

It is more important than ever that young people understand their local labour market to enable them to make informed decisions about their next steps and their futures. It was a pleasure to work with VotesforSchools, who have a collaborative approach that ensures that the needs of their clients are met, along with using their expertise in how to communicate effectively with the student audience. The lesson resources which VotesforSchools created for us bring the labour market to life in a truly innovative way that will ensure that the aspirations of young people are raised and that they can feel positive about their future in the county.

NIKKI WAKEFIELD, Oxfordshire LEP
In June 2021, our Youth Advisory Board discussed:

1. Do you learn enough in school to prepare you for life in the wider world?
2. What is the purpose of education today?

We invited all our schools to nominate students to join our Youth Advisory Board.

22 children from 11 Primary and Secondary schools attended three online meetings this year in October, February and June.

3. We facilitated discussion on what are the most pressing issues for young people, which VoteTopics they would like to see, and how they think youth voice can be amplified.
WHAT OUR IMPACT HAS ACHIEVED

Student Voice Awards

Our annual awards promote Student Voice by recognising and celebrating high quality and inspiring practice. For these awards, we provide success criteria and receive examples from schools of the impact of youth voice from individuals and the school as a whole.

The VotesforSchools lesson debates on the BLM movement, Pride, Petrol & Diesel Cars, Feeling Safe, Gender Bias and more recently Consent have led to positive change when shaping college policies involving consultation with key stakeholders. Students have spoken up at year group committees passionately in support of their beliefs, backed up with pertinent evidence. As a consequence, changes have been implemented with SLT & Governors’ agreement on issues such as car engines idling on campus & student safety talks.

Our next step is to invite the local MP into school to meet with the Student Council. This will then consolidate their understanding of what using their voice means beyond school but also how they can get involved in the local area, not just national elections.

FUTURE IMPACT

For Voters

We will develop our impact for voters by:

- giving children and young people more genuine and meaningful opportunities to have a voice and influence decisions which affect them
- engaging more young people in weekly voting
- increasing our Youth Advisory Board capacity by catering for separate Primary and Secondary meetings
- amplifying youth voice through the media and partnerships.
FUTURE IMPACT

We will develop our impact for schools by:

- providing more resources and support on sensitive and challenging topics
- increasing participation in our Student Voice Awards
- seeking opportunities for school-based research and case studies.

"An absolutely fantastic resource with excellently planned lessons which engage all ages in our school from 11 to 18. Our teachers love using it and the topics are always relevant. I would recommend this to any school. It's a fantastic way of getting students discussing topical issues that they wouldn't usually know about. The staff are always on hand to answer any questions and help with any issues. Thank you, I can't wait for another year's worth of resources.

ANNUAL SURVEY, JULY 2021"
Upcoming Project

We are working with the UK Committee for UNICEF (UNICEF UK) in the run-up to the 2021 United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP26).

There will be a package of free resources for Primary, Secondary and 16+, on the question: “Will climate change affect children's rights?”

We aim to get 100,000 voices heard, not just here in the UK, but from across the world.
